Says Vinol Creates Strength

Rosary Hill Home, Hawthorne, N. Y. — "I have used Vinol for many run-down, weak or emaciated patients with benefit. One young woman was so weak and ill she could hardly creep to my door for aid. I supplied Vinol to her liberally and in a month I hardly recognized her. She was strong, her color charming and her cheeks rounded out." — MOTHER M. ALPHONSA LATHROP, O. S. D.

We guarantee Vinol to sharpen the appetite, aid digestion, enrich the blood and create strength.

Findley.

The first of this week was a period of spring-like weather such as we seldom see here. Several days one was comfortable without fire and vegetation took on a look of green such as we expect in March and April.

Mrs. Louis Lipsky has as her guest this week her two nieces, Misses Azalia and Frances Lehman, of New York. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Lehman of that city and Mrs. Lehman will be remembered here as Miss Jennie Skaller.

The warm weather of the first of the present week looked more like spring than winter, and the blustery weather made one feel like March had come. These conditions were much to the discomfort of those who had killed hogs about the breaking up of the cold spell of the week before.

The name given the new movie show house on the northeast corner of the square recently opened to the public was suggested by James Albright who was thereby winner of the complimentary ticket good to February 1 next which had been offered by the management. The lover of hunting looks forward to the opening of the quail season which is one week from today, next Friday, December 15. Already there have been rumors of hunting, lots of it, but the real sportsman will wait the coming of the legal opening of the season before he takes his gun to the field. Every constable and deputy sheriff is a game warden, under the law, and is sworn to see the enforcement of the game law. The Falcon hates to see any citizen punished, but it hates to see the law violated and the game killed before the legal season for shooting comes.

W. T. Cartwright was carried to Memphis on last Saturday where he successfully underwent an operation for appendicitis, form which he is satisfactorily recovering at a Memphis hospital. He was stricken Saturday while about his business in Oakland and attending physicians saw they had a serious case to deal with and decided that an operation at the quickest possible moment was necessary. At last reports from his bedside he was doing nicely and the hope entertained that his complete recovery would be speedy and perfect. In this hope lots of friends here join the family.

Fayette county lost one of its oldest and most prominent citizens last week when Mrs. W. F. Hancock passed away at her home at LaGrange after a long illness and at an age but little short of the three score and ten allotted to man. Her husband, Capt. W. F. Hancock who was one of the most substantial citizens of the county, preceded her less than two years. They were both cultured citizens of the Old South, and their going leaves a feeling of regret in the hearts of those early friends yet left and of the younger generation who have always felt a reverence for lives and characters of such people.

The checks for the county fair winners are being called for daily and those receiving them seem gratified that cash premiums are being paid. This is in accordance with promises made by the board of directors last spring when the fair was first discussed and the promise is being fulfilled to the very letter. Every winner is receiving his winnings in cash, every item of expense has been paid and the fair will start out on its 1917 campaign with a clean slate and with some poultry coops, horse, cattle, sheep and hog pens made and paid for. The success of the fair has not ceased to gratify those who speak of it.

The season's work of caring for the Somerville cemetery has just about closed, and the good ladies who have had the work in charge are to be congratulated on the splendid way in which the cemetery was kept thruout the season. Only a few things remain to be done before the period of winter and plans have been made for doing these. The leaves from the fine oaks in the cemetery have about all fallen and these will be taken out, leaving the grounds clean for the coming of spring. The condition of the ground is certainly a matter for gratification doing credit to Somerville and the ladies who have carried on the work.

President Peyton Issues Statement

A memorandum has just been issued to the newspaper reporters of conclusions reached by Mr. Peyton as to the question upon which employees on the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway recently took a strike vote, i. e. the demand of the representatives of the four orders of trainmen that in considering grievances affecting a member of any one of the orders, the general manager should discuss same with a joint committee of the four orders.

Mr. Peyton wishes to say to the public that in reaching this conclusion his mind was influenced by general conditions affecting the country; the fact that the question of meeting the four organizations jointly really is not of very material importance, except for its bearing upon the general question of the sanctity of contracts; the fact that a strike just now would cause a great deal of suffering along the lines of the railroad, particularly in towns and communities entirely dependent upon this system for their supply of coal, the stock of which is now at a minimum thruout the country, and by the further fact that the Congress assembled to-morrow, and that the President of the United States, in an address before a joint session of the two houses of congress on August 26, 1916, gave the assurance that laws would be passed that would in the future prevent such catastrophes overwhelming the country.
